The dolphin

The dolphin swims in the
shimmering blue sea,
The foaming water laps gently
around her,
The emerald seaweed floats in
the waves,
The colourful fish swim around
her gracefully,
She glides through the tranquil
water,
Moving gracefully.

CJC15

Sea Poem

The shining blue sea was calm,
As the waves floated upon the sand,
The seagulls cry was loud and sharp,
As they flew across the warm land.

The sun was shining brightly,
As the rays lit up the sky,
The water danced and tumbled,
As the day went flying by.

Storm at Sea

In the great old storm the thunder goes bang bang bang!
It is like a beating drum,
It is as loud as a firing gun at the start of a race,
It is an enormous earthquake,
The thunder is furious at the world.
Bang bang bang!

In the great old storm the wind goes whoosh whoosh whoosh!
It is like a howling wolf,
It is as cold as ice from the Arctic,
It is a wild whistle blowing high and low,
The wind is singing a deadly song.
Whoosh whoosh whoosh!

In the great old storm the waves go crash crash crash!
They are as tall as towering buildings in a city,
They are like fists pounding the surface,
They are blue bulldozers of the sea,
The waves are waving sailors goodbye to Davy Jones' Locker.
Crash crash crash!

By Alexander Rakic

Upon A Beach

Upon a beach
Three small shells lay,
And saw the water
Come out to play.
But, all the waves
Went back to sea,
And took those shells,
One, two and three.

Author Unknown.

Actions:

Children sit in a circle.
Choose 3 children to be shells.
5 others to be waves, holding hands.

Verse 1: Line 1 & 2 3 shells lie on the beach.
          Line 2 & 3 The waves come and skip around them.
Verse 2: The waves take the shells by the hand and take them back to the sea.

The Storm

See lightning is flashing,
The forest is crashing,
The rain will come dashing,
A flood will be rising anon;

The heavens are scowling,
The thunder is growling,
The load winds are howling,
The storm had come suddenly on!

But now the sky clears,
The bright sun appears,
Now nobody fears,
But soon every cloud will be gone.